At Noon.

THE FINEST FLEET AFLOAT.

UNCLE SAM'S SUPERB WHITE SQUADRON A FEAST FOR HIS EYES AS HE COMES UP THE BAY. ALL READY FOR THE
GRAND RECEP-TION.

(Special Dispatch to the Transcript.)
NEW YORK, August 23.—New York bay was a beautiful sight this morning in the clear sunshine, with the magnificent fleet of United States war vessels floating at anchor and the swarm of peaceful craft gaily decked waiting for the arrival of the distinguished Chinese visitor Li Hung Chang.

The Chinese statesman has seen many fine fleets, and when he visited Queen Victoria he was treated to a grand display of warships, but he never set eyes on a finer fleet than that commanded by Admiral Bruce today. Every one represented the very latest improvements in its kind and all are capable of whipping three times their weight in any foreign warships afloat.

The gallant fleet which swung in double column en echelon to the flood tide at ten—the rams pointing seaward, consisted of the Indians, New York, Massachusetts, Maine, Texas, Columbia, Newark, Raleigh, Montgomery and the double turret monitors Amphrite and Terror.

To Fire Island must give the credit of the first greeting to the Li Hung Chang to the shores of America. For some days past preparations had been going on among the guests at the Surf hotel for a salute as the St. Louis passed. A big crowd surged along the beach as the vessel approached to a position opposite the pavilion. Then the crowds commenced cheering the St. Louis dipped colors and passengers gave back answering cheer to those on shore.

The hoisting of "Old Glory" at the marine observatory notified the multitude on the water and shores of New York bay that the St. Louis was in sight, shortly after eleven o'clock. As the steamer approached the yellow dragon flag of China was seen flying from the truck of the mizzenmast.

The U. S. Dispatch boat Dolphin went down the bay to meet the incoming steamer. She carried a distinguished party including the Chinese minister from Washington, Yang Yu, the New York consul, General Ruge as official representative of President Cleveland, and other officials all in full uniform.

The officials from the Dolphin were taken aboard the St. Louis down the bay. As the ocean liner steamed up toward her she was greeted with salutes of whistles and dipping of colors. She arrived at the pier at 1:30 where the party disembarked and went directly to the Waldorf hotel. The city is gay with flags and decorations and everything is in readiness for the grand reception.

SHOCKING TRAGEDY.

A Mother and Three Children Found Dead In Their Home at Kansas City.

(Special Dispatch to the Transcript.)
KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 28.—Neighbors who broke into the house of C. W. Green, traveling passenger agent of the "Big Four" railroad line, this forenoon, found three children lying dead in bed. They had been shot as they slept. In another part of the house Mrs. Green was found also dead, in a pool of blood. Apparently while temporarily insane she had killed the children and herself.

THE BANK OF ENGLAND

Feeling the Withdrawal of Gold Currency Reduces the Price of Bar Gold.

(Special Dispatch to the Transcript.)
LONDON, Aug. 28.—The Westminster Gazette this afternoon says the bank of England is beginning to feel the gold withdrawal. It therefore has reduced the price of bar gold with the object of inducing shippers to take eagles.

TURKISH ANARCHY.

Massacres Still Continue. Victims by the Thousands Killed in the Streets.

(Special Dispatch to the Transcript.)

PHILIPPOPOLIS, Turkey, Aug. 28.—Travelers arriving here from Constantinople say the state of anarchy continues at the Turkish Capital and that the number of persons massacred in the streets reached into the thousands.

DANA TO DEMOCRATS.

The Veteran Editor of The Sun Tells Voters What to Do.

The Chicago platform invites us to establish a currency which will enable a man to pay his debts with half as much property as he would have to use in order to pay them now. This proposition is dishonest. I do not say that all the advocates of the free coinage of silver are dishonest. Thousands of them, millions, if there be so many, are doubtless honest in intention. But I am unable to reconcile with any idea of integrity a change in the law which will permit a man who has borrowed $100 to pay his debt with $100 each one of which is worth only half as much as each dollar he received from the lender.

The Chicago platform sanctions the use of the appointing power of the president in such a way as to control the federal judiciary in deciding questions of constitutional law. It contemplates a change in the personnel of the supreme court of the United States to the end that the recent decision declaring the income tax unconstitutional may be reversed. Strange times indeed are these when a man is told that in order to be a Democrat he must favor the imposition of an income tax and the destruction of the independence of the judiciary.

Still more alarming is the clearly implied approval of lawless violence contained in the denunciation of what is denominated in the platform "government by injunction." Veiled in the language of moderation, the wild light of anarchy shines through.

In my opinion, without reviewing the Chicago platform further, the declarations in regard to the currency, the supreme court and the income tax and the repression of forcible lawlessness by the aid of injunctions are enough to demand its rejection by all good citizens and the defeat of the candidates who stand upon it.

I regret exceedingly to find a disposition quite prevalent to array the west against the east in the discussion of these matters. I see no occasion for making our differences sectional. Here there is no political hostility toward the west such as is expressed toward the east by some western newspapers and public speakers. Good citizens can perhaps best aid the cause of honest money and law and order by devoting more time to rational argument and less to inefficient abuse.

All questions relating to the tariff have become insignificant for the time being in view of the possibility, however slight, that the abhorrent principles of the Chicago platform may prevail.

The duty and the necessity to compass the final overthrow of that platform by assisting in the defeat of William J. Bryan are most imperative and solemn. This may most certainly be accomplished by voting for the electors pledged to support of William McKinley, but I have no quarrel with any Democrat who adopts any other course which seems to him equally well adapted or better adapted to the same end.

MASS. vs NEW YORK.

Local Campers Prove Themselves Experts.

The Decisive Game Yet to Come.

The young men from this city who are camping at Lake St. Catherine, near Granville, N. Y., are in a state of exaltation over their base ball victory Wednesday with the team of the Lakeview house a resort at the further end of the lake.

The score was 9 to 3 in the campers' favor and the victory counteracts a defeat suffered by them a week ago. The present team which is doing its best to uphold North Adams' reputation for athletic achievement against the New York state mine is made up as follows: George Atton, pitcher; Fred Warren, catcher; John Hanley, first base; S. W. Potter, second; C. Reynolds, short stop; James Macklin; Harry Millard, middle field; Phillip Potter, right field; J. Scott, left field.

The deciding game of the series will be played Saturday, if arrangements can be made, and if confidence in their ability counts for anything there is no doubt of the third game in the campers' mind.

NEW CAMPAIGN COMPANY.

N. L. MILLARD & CO. Employees Join the Republican Battalion.

A new marching club was added to the Republican campaign battalion Thursday evening. The call for the employees of N. L. Millard & Co.'s shop to meet in the Republican club room and form a campaign company met with a hearty response. Fifty-four veterans were enrolled on the company roll call and the organization was styled N. L. Millard Republican Campaign Club.

The following officers were elected:

Captain, W. F. Gaudette; first lieutenant, Albert Quian; first sergeant, Albert Simons.

The company will drill for the first time on Monday evening, in the factory yard. The members of the company are very earnest and say they intend to make the best showing on parade of all the companies in the battalion.

DID NOT WIN.

Running Team Made an Excellent Run but Failed in Coupling.

The fire department's running team returned from Northampton at 11:45 o'clock Thursday evening but brought back no prizes. The team and a crowd of hearty rooters attended the firemen's muster and the team made an effort to secure a place but failed. The team made the 300 yard run in the fastest time of any during the day but the pipeman was slow in making connection at the coupling and the race was lost. The runners beat all previous records in the run and are rightly disappointed in not getting a prize.

The results of the races were as follows:

John H. Ash, team of Chicopee Falls, won first prize of $20; Shamrocks of Turners Falls, second, $10; Haydavilles, third, $5. The winning team made the run in 42 seconds. The North Adams' time was 47 1/4 seconds.

REVIVED THE MEMORY.

Town Officials Enjoy their Annual Ride and Dinner at Bennington.

The introduction of the city government removed from office but not from memory the town's prudential committee and it was to perpetuate that memory that the members of the prudential committee took their annual ride today. The start was made from the Wilson at 9 o'clock in one of Flagg's four-horse teams, driven by Mr. Flagg. The destination was the Walcomson house in Bennington, Vt., where an excellent dinner was served and a most enjoyable afternoon passed.

The party was made up of the following: Hon. A. B. Wright, Senator Lawrence, F. A. Walker, V. A. Whittaker, S. B. Dibble, N. B. Flood, T. Collins, William F. Hodge and J. W. Hardinge.

For the Graduating Exercises.

Clarence J. Russell, the noted cornetist, of Williams '96, who is playing for the summer at the Gaylord hotel at Williamstown, will contribute a few selections at the graduating exercises of the hospital on September 9. Mrs. Wilson Curtis will sing the solo, "This is My Dream of You," Laule. The dust, "Carmine," by Lane will be rendered by Mrs. Wilson Curtis and Mrs. J. Mortimer Darby. Mr. Roberts will act as accompanist, and at the close of the exercises, the National hymn will be sung by the entire assembly. The musical program will add much to the graduating exercises and Mr. Roberts is much pleased at having secured the services of Mr. Russell whose music will prove a decided addition to the features of the afternoon.

Home Again.

D. W. Tuttle, E. A. Bryant, Peter McCaw, Mrs. McCaw and Mrs. Will Nichols returned last evening from New York.

Mr. Tuttle and Mr. McCaw returned Wednesday to New York from a six week's trip abroad. Mr. Tuttle's health is much improved and their trip was a very enjoyable one.

Who Owns It?

Officer Reagan took a rig to Flagg's stable early this morning where it awaits the call of its owner. The team was found on State street minus a drive.

REPUBLICAN NOMINATIONS

For President,

WILLIAM MCKINLEY
of Ohio.

For Vice President,

GARRET A. HOBART
of New Jersey.

CRANE AND WRIGHT.

[Great Barrington Courier.]

The candidacy of W. Murray Crane for lieutenant-governor and of Ashley B. Wright for a renomination for member of congress, was unanimously indorsed at the meeting of the McKinley and Hobart club on Monday evening. It is fitting that this action should be taken by this club, whose membership largely represents and voices the sentiment of the Republicans of Southern Berkshire, who are, to a man, in favor of Mr. Crane for lieutenant-governor. And, for that matter, the Republicans of the entire country are a unit for him. Not only is the whole of Western Massachusetts loyal and solid for Mr. Crane, but he has a large following throughout the state, which those working in the interest of Colonel Winslow will find it difficult to lessen.

As for Congressman Wright, it is apparent that all delegates chosen from this part of the district to attend the congressional convention will favor giving him a other term, as the feeling is that he deserves and is entitled to it. Mr. Malone of Greenfield contests the nomination with Mr. Wright, but he has not the support of his home paper, the Gazette, which says:

In view of the candidacy of Congressman Wright, announced some time ago, and of his substantial support in this city and county, and further recognizing the fitful and creditable service he has given to congress, the Gazette has advocated his re-nomination. It will be seen that in the interest of that harmony in the district which the Franklin towns have everything to gain in seeing continued, the contest which Mr. Malone's candidacy opens might wisely be avoided. Mr. Wright's strong term in the aid of Franklin county, the good will which his support at this time would create, would turn to the advantage of Greenfield candidate, and Mr. Malone's four years of legislative service should make his name a credit to Greenfield's congressional fortunes.

Mr. Malone reaches a different conclusion. The Gazette believes the position it took in favoring Mr. Wright's nomination, in common with nearly every other Republican paper in the district, was justified. The Gazette, in its opinion, had no consideration of fairness, good public policy and all our party, and particularly our local party, interests.

Berkshire should and probably will be solid for Wright. Four years ago the nomination sought him, and with some reluctance he accepted it. He has credibly represented the district, and is fairly and reasonably entitled to a renomination. Mr. Malone desires the honor and is making a personal canvass of the district in his own behalf. While he is a man of ability and character, we do not see why any man in the district has not as much right as he to demand the nomination, and we fancy that there are many Republicans in the district old-fashioned enough to feel that the office should seek the man, and for that reason alone they would hesitate to support the gentleman from Greenfield.

Can any one remember George D. Robinson traveling over the district fishing for the nomination, the year he was first elected? But waiting that point, there are good and sufficient reasons why Mr. Wright should be the nominee, and we trust and believe that the good sense of the voters will lead to that end.

At West Point the other day a New York girl was saved from the fatal bite of a copperhead snake because of her big balloon sleeves. The snake couldn't bite through the superfluous sleeve stuff. Well, some men carry "monkey bottles" for danger of snake bites, too, so they say, and we don't know which is the more unjustifiable—the big sleeves or the big whiskey bottles. They are both infinitely bad. Or are our tastes perverted as to both articles.

As regards his attitude on the currency question, Major McKinley's letter of acceptance fully meets the requirements of the situation. In saying this we say a good deal, for the situation imperatively demanded the expression on his part of sound financial views in an unmistakable manner, and he has fully answered the call. The position which he has taken up cannot but have an excellent effect, both politically and from a business point of view.—Boston Herald.

With the masterly letter from McKinley followed Thursday night by the brilliant utterances of Depew, and the impressive speech of ex-President Harrison in New York. It has been a week of marvellous patriotic inspiration and encouragement. The murky dog days have vanished and the bracing time of exhilarating purified atmosphere, of bountiful harvests and of glorious victory is at hand.

POLITICAL FACTS.

If Frank S. Black's head is not dizzy because of his rapid rise to eminence, it is because there is nothing in his head to rattle. And he has not shown that he could be very much rattled by anything up to this time. The Murphy gang could do it, anyway.

The Troy Times may congratulate itself on the fact that it brought out Frank S. Black, the next governor of New York state. But Mr. Black can congratulate himself still more heartily that he had the Troy Times to bring him out.

"Brave Old Tom Reed!" Hear his voice ringing out in Maine to cheer Republicans across the continent. He is no "Achilles sulking in his tent by the sounding sea." He is a fighter for right and his party always. That's why we all like him.

Major McKinley will not speak from the rear end of trains over all the country. He has made one great and dignified speech for everybody in his letter of acceptance. No one need now doubt as to where the Republican candidate stands.

Vermont speaks next Tuesday. The whole nation is listening for the first verdict. We are sure that the old Green Mountain state will no more fall her country in 1896 than did the Green Mountain boys in 1776.

When William McKinley says a thing he means it. He never has been known to desert his honest convictions, and when he says the gold standard must be sustained he means it unequivocally.

That Indianapolis convention may nominate Henry Watterson for president. And then won't there be "marching through slaughter houses to open graves!"

What a difference in effect between the magnificent and logical letter of William McKinley's and the oratorical failure of Bryan at Madison Square garden.

If you want a clear, concise, logical statement of the money question, read Major McKinley's letter of acceptance. No one has stated it better.

Autumn is almost here, and its surest sign is the beginning of the return of city people to their city homes.

It is now said that Mr. Cleveland will readily endorse the action of the Indianapolis convention.

The greatest argument yet heard for Major McKinley's election is his letter of acceptance. It is a masterpiece.

That letter of acceptance! It does our heart good.

The more Bryan talks the better—for McKinley.

THE CHILDREN.

Just let 'em make all the noise that they wants to—that's what I say!

Never wuz y'all any children that ever got into my way!

Talk about stompin' an' rompin'—bliss you! That's joy to my soul!

An' never a child wuz too little for them big arms to hug an' to hol'!

Just let 'em make all the noise that they wants to—that's what I say!

Felt me with snowballs in winter, or roses in May!

Talk about trouble—it's nothing! I'm never so happy—not me!

And when one's in my arms—an' another has briddled and saddled my knee!

Just let 'em make all the noise that they wants to—that's what I say!

The world—it belongs to the children; it's where the Lord tol' 'em to play!

Talk about worry—it's nothing! Never wuz sorrow but smiled.

An' melted away into music at a kiss from the lips of a child!

So, just let 'em make all the noise that they wants to—that's what I say!

The Lord made the roses for children, an' I think that he piled up the hay.

What shall it profit us to have a dollar which grows more valuable every day if such a dollar lowers the standard of civilization and brings distress to the people?"—Presidential Candidate Bryan in His New York Speech.

This question is based on two errors.

The gold dollar does not grow more valuable every day. It changes but slightly in value during long periods, and, measured by the labor cost of procuring it, is now less valuable than it was 20 years ago.

While gold is not a perfect standard of value, it is the best known to mankind.

Nor is it true that the use of one particular kind of metal to measure values "lowers the standard of civilization." The most highly civilized nations have always been those which have used gold.

But if it is "gold and silver—not one, but both"—that they want, why are they not contented now? Both gold and silver are in circulation now, on equal terms, in larger quantities than ever before. In the 23 years since the blood curdling "crime of 1873" was perpetrated more than 50 times as many silver dollars have been coined as in the 60 years preceding.

The simple fact is that the United States has today a very much larger actual supply of legal tender silver money than any other country in the world, excepting India and China, and a larger supply in proportion to its population than any other, excepting France, Spain and Holland. It has more gold in circulation actually than any in the world, excepting only France, and more proportionately than any European country, excepting Great Britain, France and Germany. It also has more money of all kinds in circulation and all at par than most nations of the world.

Less talk and more reflection would convince these would be currency reformers that we already have what they talk of as "the time honored money of the constitution" in abundant supply for every man who is willing honestly to earn it.—New York Tribune.

As regards his attitude on the currency question, Major McKinley's letter of acceptance fully meets the requirements of the situation. In saying this we say a good deal, for the situation imperatively demanded the expression on his part of sound financial views in an unmistakable manner, and he has fully answered the call. The position which he has taken up cannot but have an excellent effect, both politically and from a business point of view.—Boston Herald.

With the masterly letter from McKinley followed Thursday night by the brilliant utterances of Depew, and the impressive speech of ex-President Harrison in New York. It has been a week of marvellous patriotic inspiration and encouragement. The murky dog days have vanished and the bracing time of exhilarating purified atmosphere, of bountiful harvests and of glorious victory is at hand.

Against the wild theory of a Bryan place the practical sense and long experience of a McKinley, and the American people will not hesitate in making a choice. McKinley is safe; Bryan is uncertain. In these days of commercial depression the Americans cannot afford to make experiments.

DIED.

In this city, August 27, Mary Louise Jacob aged 19 years. Interment at West Rutland, Vt.

The date of the popular annual excursion to Boston via Fitchburg railroad has been fixed for Friday, October 2.

—S. Alford has sold for H. D. Childs two building lots on the Sherman property, West Main street, to Edmonde Vaudnais, for $1,900.

—Marie Louise Jacob, aged 13 years, died at her home, 22 Beaver street, Thurs., day after a short illness. The interment took place today at West Rutland, Vt.

Do you favor a stable measure of value? The experience of all civilized nations has shown that gold fluctuates less in value than any other commodity, and is therefore the best standard by which to measure the value of property of all kinds. Silver, on the contrary, varies greatly in value from year to year, and is for that reason an unstable standard. In a choice between the two metals there can be no question as to the superiority of gold.

Do you believe in bimetallism—that is, the use of both gold and silver as full legal tender money? The opening of the United States mints to the free coinage of silver at a ratio of 16 to 1 would at once drive gold out of circulation and put the country on the silver basis. Then instead of bimetallism we would have silver monometalism.

Do you want more money in use? We now have about $1,200,000,000 in metallic money, divided into nearly equal amounts of gold and silver. The adoption of the silver standard, which must certainly follow free coinage, would, by forcing gold out of use, deprive us of one-half of our stock of money. Thus free silver means not more, but less money.

Do you want low rates of interest on loans? If owners of capital know that they are sure to be paid interest and principal in dollars as high purchasing power as those they loan, they will be willing to take less interest than if they expect to be paid in depreciated dollars. The proof of this is found in the decline in interest rates since the adoption of the gold standard in this country and in the fact that the rate of interest is far lower in England, Germany and other gold using nations than in India, Mexico and the rest of the silver countries.

Do you want to see confidence restored, industry prosperous and business brisk? The agitation for such a financial revolution as would be involved in the overthrow of the gold standard and the various forms of currency based on it is strangling industry and hampering business. Until it is settled that contractors to pay dollars will not be broken by law nobody cares to risk money in enterprises involving the investment of capital for any length of time. An emphatic declaration that this country will remain on an honest money basis will restore prosperity and put an end to the business troubles arising from the threats of the free silver agitators.

Happenings of Interest in Our Neighbor Towns.

AT ADAMS TODAY.

Notre Dame Fair—How some Shriveto Huncoo Nate Baker's Entertainments for Tonight. A Girl, either Drunk or Crazy, startles Adams People—Theodore Dupre Steals Ten Dollars and is Caught at North Adams—Party at Miss Bessie Adams—a Court of American Foresters Organized—Other Important Items.

CAUGHT IN NORTH ADAMS.

Fifteen-Year-Old Theodore Dupre Steals Ten Dollars and tries to get out.

Theodore Dupre, fifteen years old, of Commercial street, bears the reputation of a juvenile tough and has served some time in the state primary school for steaming. The night before last his aunt, Mrs. Joseph Dupre, of Harmony street, notified Chief Curran that someone had stolen $10 from her. He went to work on the case and securing evidence enough to convince him that young Dupre was the culprit, served out a warrant for his arrest, Thursday. When he went to look for the boy in the afternoon he was nowhere to be found and the chief telephoned the North Adams police to keep an eye out for the youth. The boy had on his best black clothes, knee trousers and a white vest. About 10:30 o'clock he was arrested at the depot in North Adams by Officer Faro, while waiting for the east bound train. The boy had about $250 in money, an alligator grip, in which there was a bottle of whiskey. He said that a "dago" had bought the whiskey for him.

Dupre was sentenced to the Concord reformatory for an indefinite period by Judge Bixby this morning.

A GIRL OUT ON A RACKET.

She was Drunk or Crazy and Alarmed the Good People of Adams.

People on Park street about 6:15 o'clock Thursday evening were excited to see a horse come dashing up the street and in the buggy attached was a young girl with her hat in one hand and the whip in the other leaning forward in an excited way. They thought the horse was running away and William Hammond ran into the street to stop it. The fair driver dropped the lines, the horse slowed up and with a hearty laugh off she went again. The outfit disappeared as quickly as it had come and the on-lookers were left to speculate whether the young woman was intoxicated or crazy. Her actions indicated that the former was the case. She was from North Adams, some one said, although no one knew her and the rig belonged to a North Adams livery man.

ONLY SMOKING RUINSThe Sultan of Zanzibar's Palace Entirely Destroyed.*MANY OF THE INSURGENTS KILLED*Marines from the Bombarding Vessels Still Guarding All Roads Leading to the City—No Europeans or Americans Injured.

Zanzibar, Aug. 23.—Nothing but smoking ruins mark the spot where yesterday morning stood the magnificient palace of the sultan of Zanzibar. All roads and avenues of escape from the city are still guarded by detachments of British marines sent ashore from the warships which yesterday bombarded the castle. The work of taking the insurgents prisoners is now complete. The dead have all been gathered in and the wounded are being cared for. The surprising chieftain, Said Khalid, whose refusal to surrender and quit the palace, where he was entrenched with a strong and heavily armed band of followers, caused the British boats to open fire on the castle, is still at the German consulate, to which place he fled with the commander of his forces, Said Saleh, during the bombardment and sought asylum.

Frances Sought Safety or Warships.

Many of the British residents aboard the warships lying in the harbor before the bombardment began, all of the ladies taking refuge upon the St. George, the flagship of rear admiral Harry H. Carson, but a large number of Europeans remained on shore. Most of the rebels stood to their guns pluckily and fought well, though after the first broadside was fired from the warships a number of the defenders of the palace fled to the outskirts of the town, where many robbers were committed. Everybody on board the rebel steamer Glasgow, which was sunk by the British vessels, were rescued by boats from the bombarding ships. There were a large number among them who had been wounded. Several Indian soldiers were killed during the firing. The Thrush was hit sixty-two times and the Racoons sixteen times by shots from the guns of the rebels.

Bombardment of the Palace.

Said Khalid had ample warning of what to expect if he did not surrender. In reply to the last message sent to the palace by Rear-Admiral Rawson informing him that only one hour more would be given him to quit the palace, he said that he and his followers would die rather than give in. About 9 o'clock the flagship signalled the Kacock, Thrush and Sparrow to begin firing and a moment later the cruiser and the gunboats opened fire with their heavier guns, sending a storm of shot and shell into the palace. The shells tore big gaps in the palace, scattering death and confusion among its defenders. Some of the guns of Said Khalid ashore were dismounted by the shot and the gunners were put to flight. It was not long after the bombardment began when smoke was seen issuing from windows of the palace, indicating that the building had been set on fire by the rebels. The British shells continued to rain shot into the castle for forty-five minutes, when it began to tumble in ruins and flames were making fast headway in the work of destruction. Efforts of the marines, who were landed when the flagstaff signalled to cease firing, to check the flames, were unavailing and the once handsome structure was reduced to ruins.

Insurgent Loss Heavy.

London, Aug. 23.—Later advices from Zanzibar say that the loss of Said Khalid's force was heavy, but the exact number of the killed and wounded is not known. The only casualty on the British side was the serious injuring of one seaman. No material damage was sustained by the British war vessels. Hamoud, a cousin of the late sultan, has been proclaimed successor to the sultanate.

HAMID PROCLAIMED SULTAN.

Dispatch from Consul Mohun to the State Department.

Washington, Aug. 23.—The state department has received the following cable dispatch from Consul Dorsey Mohun at Zanzibar: "Hamid bin Bargash refusing to surrender, palace was bombarded by English fleet at 9 o'clock yesterday morning and totally destroyed. Many killed. He took refuge in German consulate. Afterwards Hamid proclaimed sultan. His claim the appellant represents that he is 'Abdul Stetson' of the city of New York, and 'that she is the widow of John Stetson, Jr.,' and is interested in his estate.

HEIR TO A FORTUNE.A Poor Philadelphia Widow Said To Have Fallen into Luck.

Philadelphia, Aug. 23.—A published story says Mrs. Mota Jansen, a poor widow aged 56 years, has been notified that she is a principal heir to a fortune estimated at $15,000,000. Mrs. Jansen is a descendant of Johannes Witthe, a German, who died in 1799, and who three years prior to his death left his fortune of 15,000,000 guilders in trust to the Holland government for the purpose of founding a school for orphan children. Witthe stipulated that after a century should elapse the principal should be divided among his descendants. Mrs. Jansen said to-day: "Mrs. Wilhelmina Hansen, who is one of the heirs to the estate, started to regain the money from the Holland government about fourteen years ago. Her lawyer has now won her case, and the money will be turned over to the heirs next spring. It will be divided among Mrs. Hansen, who lives in Copenhagen; Mrs. Peter Larsen, my cousin, who lives at 37 First street, Brooklyn, N. Y.; William Monk, another cousin, of 43 Novins street, Brooklyn; Mrs. Elizabeth Moeller, my sister of Copenhagen, and myself. If there are any other relatives to share our inheritance I do not know them." Mrs. Jansen further said that the fortune had increased from 15,000,000 guilders at the time of Witthe's death to 65,000,000 guilders—about $15,000,000.

MISS AIR PHOTOGRAPHS.Views Taken of Boston by Camera Supplied by Kite.

Boston, Aug. 23.—The mid-air kite photographs of Boston taken by W. A. Eddy of Bayonne, N. J., were developed yesterday afternoon. Of the first twelve films seven were successful, giving distinct views at a great height of the Common, Beacon street, Commonwealth avenue, Charles river and the outlying suburbs. Mr. Eddy estimates that in one of the views the camera was at the moment of exposure fully 1,500 feet above the pavement. Of the five photographs taken Wednesday three failed owing to a defect in the camera shutter, but two good views of the central part of the city of Tremont and Washington streets were secured. Owing to winds more than three days were required to complete the experiment. The kites used were six and seven feet in diameter, and during the experiments from four to eight of these kites were required to support the camera, depending upon the strength of the wind. The simultaneous temperature observations to be compared with those at Blue Hill observatory will be continued to-day and to-morrow.

GOLD COMING IN.An Aggregate of $9,500,000 Now on the Way from Europe.

Washington, Aug. 23.—The treasury gold reserve at the opening of business to-day had declined to $101,339,174. Yesterday's withdrawals at New York were $89,700. The mail advises from San Francisco, which are a week late, show that the withdrawals there last week were of $40,000, and this figure has been the average withdrawal there for some time. The treasury was advised that $5,000,000 in gold had been engaged in Europe for export to the United States. This, with former engagements of gold, swells the aggregate now on the way here to $9,500,000.

More Gold on the Way Here.

London, Aug. 23.—The Bank of England has raised its minimum selling price for bar gold to 77s. 1d. per ounce. The selling price of eagles has been lowered to 70s. 7d. per ounce.

More gold for America left the bank yesterday, mostly eagles. Yesterday's export of gold from the Bank of England was practically all for the United States.

Adam Richmond Takes an Appeal.

Boston, Aug. 23.—Adam Richmond, the actress, has taken an appeal from the decision of the court allowing the will of the late John Stetson, Jr. In her claim the appellant represents that she is "Abdul Stetson" of the city of New York, and "that she is the widow of John Stetson, Jr.," and is interested in his estate.
